Unseen Passage: The Lost Puppy

One sunny afternoon, a little boy named Sam was walking home from school when he heard a soft whimper. He looked around and found a small puppy hiding under a bush. The puppy looked scared, hungry, and dirty. Sam gently picked it up and decided to take it home.

At home, Sam cleaned the puppy, gave it some milk, and made a cozy bed for it in a box. He named the puppy Buddy. The puppy wagged its tail happily, showing that it felt safe and loved.

The next day, Sam decided to find Buddy's owner. He put up posters around the neighborhood and asked people if they had lost a puppy. After a few days, a woman named Mrs. Brown came to Sam's house. She saw Buddy and said, "This is my puppy! His name is Max. Thank you for taking care of him."

Sam felt sad but knew Buddy belonged to Mrs. Brown. She thanked Sam and promised to let him visit Max whenever he wanted. Sam realized that helping someone, even if it means letting go, is the right thing to do.

Unseen Passage: The Magical Tree

Once upon a time, in a small village, there was a magical tree in the middle of a forest. The tree had sparkling leaves and golden fruits that could grant wishes. However, the tree had one rule: it would only grant wishes to kind-hearted people.

One day, a poor boy named Ravi heard about the tree. Ravi was very helpful and loved by everyone in the village. He decided to visit the tree to ask for food for his family, as they were very hungry. When Ravi reached the tree, he gently touched its trunk and said, "Dear tree, please help me feed my family."

The tree's leaves began to glow, and golden fruits fell to the ground. The tree said, "These fruits will never run out. They will keep you and your family happy and healthy forever." Ravi thanked the tree and went home with the fruits.

Soon, news about the tree spread, and many greedy people came to ask for gold and jewels. But the tree refused to help them. It continued to help only those who were kind and selfless, just like Ravi. The villagers learned that kindness and honesty are more important than greed and selfishness.
