Unseen Passage: The Little Robot

In a bright workshop, there lived a little robot named Robo. Robo was not like other robots; he loved to help people. Every morning, he would wake up and say, "Beep beep! Time to help!"

Robo could clean the house, water the plants, and even bake cookies! One day, his friend Lucy came to visit. She looked sad because her toy was broken. Robo quickly said, "Don't worry, I can fix it!"

With his tiny tools, Robo worked hard and soon the toy was as good as new. Lucy smiled and hugged Robo. "Thank you, Robo! You are the best robot ever!" she said happily.
